

Atlas limits and statistics

Energy

E

Every action needs a different energy to be performed. In the macro level, the energy used will depend from the mass moved or the size of the wave generated. In the micro level, energy is quantized, so every action has a specific associated energy.

Brain's temperature

B.T.

Every action heats, depending on the energy used, a little bit Atlas' brain. If its temperature reaches the limit, he won't be able to act for while.

Cold blood and reaction

CALM

It could be considered as Atlas' level of calm. The more this value lowers, the more Atlas' reaction is slowed by its feelings.

Capacity of perspective

The perspective on the world is fundamental to understand his own potential. Increasing this value means that Atlas will be allowed to act onto smaller orders of magnitude, acquiring the capacity of dominate them. Although he's able to shape the matter, is perception is always human, so he needs to understand a model of a small and invisible level in order to act on it.

Multitasking

Multitasking is the ability to perform more actions at the same time without lose focus. If this ability is developped, Atlas will be able to separate the processes in different tasks, until a limit of 8.
